

THE GREWAL FAMILY

FINE WINE IS A REFLECTION OF ITS ROOTS

Randeep Singh Grewal came across one of the last unexploited properties in the Santa Maria Valley, back in 2011. The 110-acre property, which would soon become the remarkable Ca' Del Grevino estate, held all the characteristics required to make exceptional wines: rolling hills, diverse microclimates and complex soil types. And so, Randeep's vision was to develop this newly acquired estate in such a way that the high quality wines would reflect the true essence of the terroir. The Ca' Del Grevino wine range represents this passion, dedication and effort put into the estate and the vineyard.

The multi-generational, family-owned and-operated winery produces the highest quality wines, which are consistently winning awards globally.

FAMILY DIVERSITY DEFINES CA'DEL GREVINO

“ HOUSE OF GREWAL WINES ”

When the Grewals purchased the Ca' Del Grevino property, it was one of the few estates in Santa Maria Valley with an Italian heritage, influence and traditional winemaking practices. They fell in love with the estate and surrounding atmosphere, and initiated a standard of farming practices to maintain the health and vitality of the property, including its entire fauna. Today, the vineyard is farmed entirely with sustainable techniques. Ca' Del Grevino's topography and diversity has been carefully and lovingly studied, guiding the development of the vineyard into 25 different blocks so far; each block further defined into sub-blocks by soil, exposure, and general climate. Grewal firmly believe that a high quality wine originates in the vineyard and thus, there is unusually high attention paid to growing high quality grapes.

Upon completion of the Ca' Del Grevino new winery design, the Grewals realized their dream of creating a boutique winery devoted to wines that truly reflects their commitment to quality. In a winery designed to suit the unique characteristics of the vineyard, one feature to highlight is the Italian-style production facility, which flows gracefully into a hillside, capitalizing on the elevation and utilizing the natural cooling of the earth and its caves to cultivate premium harvests. Inside the winery, there are stainless steel fermenters with gravity flow designs, French Oak barrels, and gentle basket presses which are tailored to match the diverse blocks in the vineyard that bring out Ca' Del Grevino's hallmark finesse and elegance.
